Residential Co-Ordinator

The Residential Co-Ordinator is a person who desires to create a safe, supportive, and nurturing spiritual environment for individuals who are seeking a life of discipleship and ministry training in a community living setting.

Qualifications

- A follower of Jesus Christ who affirms basic evangelical Scriptural principles
- Knowledge of 12-step recovery movement and commitment to personal growth activities that include these principles from a Christian perspective
- Some Bible training background would be helpful though not essential
- Agreement with Partners In Hope foundations and practices and a desire to further personal growth and mentor others around these principles
- A proven ability to mentor others in developing new life structures spiritually, physically, mentally, and socially
- Organizational and delegation skills necessary to maintain a house
- Ability to facilitate a women's support group
- Demonstrated initiative in collaborating with other ministries that seek to support women in positive transition

Duties

- Residence in the house
- Co-ordination of house schedule of activities and duties
- Facilitating house prayer/devotions on a regular basis
- Facilitating an outreach/discipleship support group based in the house
- Regular one-to-one meetings with the residents for accountability and support
- Recruitment of residents as transitions take place
- Participation in weekly outreach activities to facilitate relationship building with residents and to network with other ministries

Salary/Stipend

A monthly salary that is equivalent to room and board in the house (at current rates approximately $550/month). (Note: Since this is a part-time position, it is assumed that outside employment will also be part of the co-ordinator's schedule.)

Note: This is considered a missionary/staff position and candidates for this position would be welcomed to raise support from faith communities and individuals in order to free up their time to become more involved in outreach and support ministry activities. As a not-for-profit charity, Partners In Hope is able to offer tax-deductible receipts for Canadian supporters of such individuals.
